

Liturgy of God's Leading

When we are faced with peer pressure and hard decisions,
We will look to you, Lord, for guidance.

When the road gets rough and we don't know where to turn,
We will ask for your help, O Lord.

When we don't understand our purpose,
We will come to you in prayer and trust in you.

When we feel like our problems are too much to bear,
We will offer our problems up to you, Lord.

In times of trial when we are tempted,
We will ask for your help, and depend on our brothers and sisters in Christ.

When we feel weak at heart and lost in the fast-paced world,
We will be patient and wait on you, Lord, for you will strengthen our hearts.

When we feel our hearts have been darkened with sin,
We will listen because you hold the key to get us out of the sin that keeps us prisoner.

Whenever we are guided by our foolish thoughts,
Lord, we will come to you for advice.

When we question our faith and your teachings,
We will continue to come to you through prayer for you are the only true way to lead us in our relationship with you.

When we find ourselves stuck in bad habits, and feelings of guilt and shame plague our minds,
We will believe in faith that what you say is true, and you will forgive us if we ask.

When we are unsure of what lies ahead and when we are wrongly accused and prosecuted,
We will turn to you Lord, and follow what you have taught us through your word.

When we are troubled with the sins on our hearts, whether they are small or large,
We will come to you, Lord and Heavenly Father, to cleanse our minds and bodies that are tainted with our sins.

We will continue to be open to your leading and come to you for all our sorrows and our joys.
Praise the Lord for his strength and greatness. Praise him with loud cymbals and praise him with crashing cymbals. Praise the Lord. Amen.

Liturgy written by Jessica Parsons and Anne Cole Nicholson